

Conjunctivitis Naturally Treated with Homeopathy and Schuessler Salts

Conjunctivitis, also known as pink eye, is a common eye infection that can be caused by bacteria, viruses, or allergies. It is characterized by inflammation of the conjunctiva, the clear membrane that covers the white of the eye and lines the eyelid. Symptoms of conjunctivitis include redness, itching, burning, tearing, and sensitivity to light.

While conventional treatments for conjunctivitis often involve antibiotics or other medications, there are also a number of natural remedies that can be effective in treating this condition. Homeopathy and Schuessler salts are two such natural therapies that have been used for centuries to treat a wide range of health conditions, including conjunctivitis.

Homeopathy is a system of medicine that uses highly diluted preparations of natural substances to stimulate the body's own healing response. Homeopathic remedies are selected based on the individual's symptoms and constitution, and are typically taken orally.
